

MUNSEY ENTRY LIST EXCEEDS PREDICTION

Addition of Two More Washington Cars Brings Total to Thirty-four—Interest Will Center in Performance of Local Entrants.

Last Call.

Entries in the Frank A. Munsey Reliability Contest close at noon tomorrow at the Munsey Tour Headquarters, Munsey Building, Washington, D. C. No entries will be received after that hour.

Thirty-four cars, representing twenty-eight different makes, constitute the entry list to date.

By HARRY WARD.

Two additional Washington cars, made by the Carter Motor Car Corporation, of Washington, D. C., were entered today in the Frank A. Munsey reliability contest. Three of these cars are now in the Munsey tour line-up, the first one having been entered shortly after the tour was announced. These two entries bring the list up to thirty-four cars, among which twenty-eight different makes are represented. The prediction that the entry list in the Frank A. Munsey tour would exceed that of this year's Golden, and furthermore that more different makes of cars would participate than in any previous reliability contest this year, has been more than fulfilled.

Enter Three Cars.

Two roadsters and a baby tonneau car will compose the Washington "flying squadron," and their performance in this, the first automobile event they have ever participated in, will be watched with a great deal of interest by Washingtonians.

The Washington car for 1910 is the development and refinement of the preceding model, which attained considerable vogue. Prominent features of the new car are the motor, the steering system of cooling, and straight line drive.

The Washington "flying squadron" will be piloted by three members of the Carter Motor Car Corporation. A. Geary Carter, the president, will be at the wheel of one of the roadsters, while J. E. Welsh, assistant secretary, will drive the other car of this type. W. D. Arrison, the vice president, will be at the wheel of the baby tonneau car.

Referee Trego, chairman and referee of the Frank A. Munsey reliability contest, who has been in Lowell, Mass., attending the automobile races held over the famous 10.6-mile course, arrived in Washington yesterday, and spent the entire day at Munsey tour headquarters in the Munsey building.

He went over the plans that have been made for checking stations along the route, and expressed himself as well pleased with the system that has been evolved. Competent men have been engaged for the several checking stations, and as they have been thoroughly instructed as to their duties, the tour managers are confident that the checking system will meet with the approval of every contestant. Mr. Trego was also well pleased with the hotel arrangements that have been made in the several cities where night stops will be made.

Referee Trego left last evening for his home in Chicago. He will return to Washington on September 15 and establish his office in the Munsey tour headquarters, where he will remain until the start of the tour on the morning of September 21.

Another interesting visitor at the Munsey tour headquarters yesterday was Jesse L. Cassard, Jr., of Baltimore, member of the technical committee.

Referee Trego and Mr. Cassard discussed the various duties of the technical committee, and the latter was enlightened upon a number of points in the rules that were not quite clear to him. Mr. Cassard was much pleased with the thoroughness of all the plans for the Munsey tour, and predicted that the club if he insists on working out the full terms of his contract, which still has more than a year to run.

AT LAST WE HAVE HIM

DOC GESSLER.

Heavy-hitting Boston Outfielder, Who Comes To Washington In Trade For Smith.

GETTING GESSLER SEEMS WISE MOVE

Ability as Hitter Much Appreciated by Washington Fans—Gray Falls Down in Pinch When Tenth Inning Is Reached.

By THOMAS S. RICE.

No game today, two games tomorrow.

"Well, I may not be the manager next year, but I don't think I showed a mean disposition toward the Washington club when I traded Smith for Gessler," remarked Manager Cantillon this morning.

"I think the club will get the full benefit of the deal long before this season is over. Gessler's ability to knock the ball out of the lot is too well known here to need discussion. President Taylor is just as well aware of Gessler's good points as I am, but he is remarkably strong on outfielders. He would do anything to brace his pitching staff and shape up his team for next season, and as we wanted Gessler, we got him. "Smith has been touted by every man who knows baseball as a wonder, and I thought he would certainly live up to these predictions, but, somehow, he could not win for Washington, and it was of no use to him to go elsewhere. I am mightily pleased with the whole deal, and believe the fans will be in the same state of mind."

Small chance for those two games with New York that were to be started here at 2 p. m.

President Noyes, of the Washington club, was as much tickled with the Smith-Gessler deal as was Manager Cantillon. Gessler is a real hitter, with a natural eye for the ball. Besides, he is one of the huskiest athletes in the American League, and has the physical stamina to go a route. There have been a number of little men who were wonderful hitters. Willie Keeler was a marvel with the stick. But, away down in their hearts the fans have a liking for a big man. They have an idea that when a man as big as Gessler or Jake Stahl comes to bat something is going to happen to the ball. There is a feeling of confidence and solid comfort. They think that if he does get a hit it is going to be a real one that will help the cause. That feeling has been justified for Boston—when Gessler took his place at the plate. If he will only hit as well for Washington as he has against Boston, he will become one of our leading citizens.

Wait a minute. Eddie McGorty, of Oshkosh, Wis., American middleweight, is challenging the English middleweights. Stop that laughing!

Although Washington has just traded away a pitcher—and it looks like it was a good deal—the club is shy on pitchers in condition. At the end of the ninth inning yesterday, when Boston beat Washington 3 to 1 in ten innings, there was a general shiver through the fans. They had a premonition that calamity would arrive in a few minutes—and it did. Gray, up to the tenth, had pitched a weak but lucky game. It was obviously an effort for him to work, and when he got the ball over the plate it lacked substance. The tenth was going to be a strain on him and everybody knew it, but he had to go back into the box, according to Cantillon, because he had done fairly well and it was better to take a chance on him than on a cold man. It was a great quandary in which to place a manager, but nobody would have kicked if he had sent somebody else on the firing line and trusted to what little luck the Nationals have now and then.

Miller's feat in throwing Lord out at the plate in the fourth inning was the best thing of the kind that will be seen here this year. Take that as a tip.

Jack Johnson and Al Kaufman put up exactly the kind of a ten-round battle in San Francisco yesterday that was predicted in The Times when the match was made. The writer's comment that it sounded like a morning after story today. The big negro simply refused to prepare himself. Kaufman was not clever enough to reach him. Wherefore, Johnson stilled around for ten rounds without showing his real power, collected a bunch of money and went his way rejoicing. His cleverness was known before, but there is a tendency among fight followers to adopt the view that if Johnson does not cut out his foolishness, he will never be able to get into condition again. All of which brings us back to the proposition that Jim Jeffries, by going abroad and remaining a year, is showing much more brains than you would imagine from the vapors of Sam Berger in about one year and one-half.

Here's how it happened in the last game with Boston:

EXPERTS DECLARE BIG MAN A JOKE

Farce Fight Between Johnson and Kaufman Disgusts Meager Attendance.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—That Al Kaufman will not do for a short fight, and that Jack Johnson has begun to treat the fight game as a joke is the belief today of the handful of fight fans who witnessed what was supposed to have been a ten-round battle between these pugilists at Croft's arena yesterday afternoon, but which was a farce from the beginning.

Some of the spectators declare Johnson might make good as a monologue man in a minstrel show, for he spent most of the time he was supposed to be "attending to his knitting" in "kidding" the witnesses, not whipping Kaufman.

Kaufman, on the other hand, was absolutely powerless, landing, by actual count, five blows on the giant black. The fight fans evidently knew what to expect, for there was only a corporal's guard in attendance, and before the ten rounds were over, a majority of them disgustedly had left.

Those who remained spent their time jeering the fighters. Johnson showed no evidence of having trained at all for the go.

O'KEEFE TOO FAST FOR YOUNG NITCHEE

Winner Shows Wonderful Speed in Six-Round Bout in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—There was action and then some when Tommy O'Keefe and Young Nitchie met here last night.

O'Keefe had all the better of the bout, jabbing and lunging the Kensington boy from the start to finish of the six-round session. Nitchie went to the floor from a right hook in the last round, and in the fifth was knocked down with a similar wallop.

MURPHY PROTESTS PITTSBURG GAME

President of Chicago Club Edges Serious Charges Against Umpire Klem.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—President Charles E. Murphy, of the Cubs, has officially protested the game of Tuesday at Pittsburgh on the ground the umpire, Klem, had violated the constitution of the National League, and asked that the contest be ordered replayed.

The protest is based on section 28 of the constitution, which says any person proved guilty of offering, agreeing or conspiring to cause a game to result otherwise than on its merits under the playing rules, shall forever be disqualified. Klem is also attacked under section 40 of the constitution, which forbids conduct in public prejudicial to the best interests of the game.

Klem's endeavor to start a fight with the Cubs in a dining car is quoted as ground for protest under this section. Sworn statements of the Chicago players form part of the evidence submitted.

RUMOR SAYS HUGHEY REPLANTS MURRAY

Detroit Manager Will Lead Phillies Next Season at $15,000 Salary.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—Hughey Jennings, the peppery manager of the Detroit American League champions, will handle the Phillies next season, unless there is a hitch in present negotiations.

Jennings himself says negotiations are on between himself and the Philadelphia club, and he assured a friend this morning that he expects to manage the Philadelphia team next season, adding that if he does he will come pretty near giving Philadelphia a National pennant.

The report is that Jennings will receive a salary of $15,000 and that Murray may be made business manager of the club if he insists on working out the full terms of his contract, which still has more than a year to run.

Little Notes on Sport and Athletics

Clipped From Many Leading Dailies

Pushball, with a ball six feet in diameter and 300 more or a side, hit taken the place of the annual bowl and came rushes between the freshmen and sophomores at the University of California.

Wanganui (Australia) sporting men may offer Sculling Champion Ernest Barry, of England, $2,500 and expenses if he will go to New Zealand and row the Albatross for the championship and $5,000 a side.

J. Pierpont Morgan's 100-guinea cup, which was offered for competition at the dog shows given at the Botanical Gardens, London, by the Peking Palace Dog Association, was won by a Terrier that bears the name of Champion.

Chuer, of Alderburn, said to be the best of his breed in the world.

Mrs. H. Lawless, of Cleveland, better known to the swimming world as Miss E. Foulds, who claims to be the present holder of the world's championship for women swimmers, will defend her title against the best mermaid in the world at the Steeplechase Park's pool, Coney Island, next Tuesday evening, when the world's championship will again be decided. Mrs. Lawless has in her possession the gold championship medal won in England last year.

Kyle Whitney, the colored welterweight, of San Francisco, is in Philadelphia and anxious to box any man in his class.

MARTO AND OTTO IN SET-TO TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—It will be a wallop against skill tonight when Young Otto, probably the hardest hitting lightweight in the country, stacks up against Johnny Martin in what is scheduled to be a ten-round bout.

That the contest will not go the limit is almost a certainty, for Marto possesses the ability to knock out, and anything Otto hits fairly invariably drops.

WEST HAS SHADE ON BILLY LEARY

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Billy West, champion welter of the west side, out-pointed Billy Leary, New Jersey's champion welter, in a ten-round bout here last evening.

For five rounds Leary, by his aggressiveness, held his opponent even, but after that West's rushing tactics told on his adversary, and at the end had Leary groggy and holding to avoid punishment.

CURES S.S.S. OLD SORES

If an old sore existed simply because the flesh was diseased at that particular spot, it would be an easy matter to apply some remedy directly to the place that would kill the germs; or the diseased flesh might be removed by a surgical operation and a cure effected. But the very fact that old sores resist every form of local or external treatment, and even return after being cut away, shows that back of them is a morbid cause which must be removed before a cure can result. Just as long as the pollution continues in the blood, the ulcer remains an open cesspool for the deposit of impurities which the circulation throws off. S.S.S. cures Old Sores by purifying the blood. It removes every trace of impurity and taint from the circulation, and thus completely does away with the cause. When S.S.S. has cleansed the blood, the sore begins to heal, and it is not a surface cure, but the healing process begins at the bottom; soon the discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, and the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh. Under the purifying and tonic effects of S.S.S. the system is built up, and those whose health has been impaired by the drain and worry of an old sore will be doubly benefited by its use. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.
